Legs shown for Special Olympics

By Shirley Brown
Rocket Staff Writer

Legs were the main attraction at the University Union MPR Tuesday night as the Special Olympics hosted the "Mr. and Ms. Legs of SRU."

Judges Ken Posner, coordinator of Resident Education/Student Activities Advisor, Jean-Marie Scott, Director of Resident Education, Dave Bongiorno, reigning Mr. SRU, Christie Nordozza, reigning Miss SRU, and Dominic DeBacco, owner of the Electric Beach tanning salon, gathered together to view legs of six categories. Categories included skinniest, longest, most shapely, tannest, ugliest, and most muscular.

A male and female winner from each category were chosen. Steve Marquis, junior, and Rosanna Victor, senior, took the winning spots for skinniest legs and also longest legs. The next set of winners came from the category of most shapely legs, being Nick Daniels, sophomore, and Chris DeRubeis, junior. Only one winner took the place of tannest legs which was Tammy Cooper, sophomore. DeRubeis along with Daniels again took the winning spot for most muscular legs. Finally, winner of the ugliest legs was Terri Taylor, freshman.

Prizes included gift certificates donated by Domino's Pizza, Palermo's, The Electric
